BEACH CLEANING WITH AFROZ SHAH FOUNDATION

Beach Cleanup Drive with Afroz Shah Foundation Report on Participation by Smt. Surajba College of Education (Every Saturday)

Smt. Surajba College of Education has joined hands with the renowned environmentalist Afroz Shah and his foundation to contribute actively to the noble cause of beach cleanups. This weekly activity, held every Saturday, has become a hallmark of the college's commitment to environmental sustainability and community engagement.

Overview

The beach cleanup drives are organized at prominent coastal areas where pollution and littering are rampant. The initiative primarily focuses on clearing plastic waste, raising awareness about marine pollution, and fostering a culture of environmental responsibility among the participants.

Participation Details

- Participants: Faculty members and student teachers from the college enthusiastically participate. 100 students from the college join the drive every week.
- Schedule: The cleanup begins at 7:00 AM and lasts until 11:00 AM, ensuring a productive and impactful morning effort.
- Collaboration: Under the mentorship of Afroz Shah and his team, participants are guided on waste segregation, recycling techniques, and the importance of reducing plastic usage.

Key Achievements

1. Waste Removal: Participants collectively helped remove several tons of plastic and non-biodegradable waste from the beaches, making them cleaner and safer for marine life.
2. Awareness Campaigns: The college team also engaged beachgoers and local residents, distributing pamphlets and educating them about responsible waste disposal.
3. Eco-Sensitivity Development: Student teachers have reported a deeper understanding of ecological issues, which they are keen to integrate into their future teaching practices.

Impact and Feedback

The participation in the cleanup drives has fostered a strong sense of social responsibility and environmental stewardship among the college community. Many students and staff members have expressed a desire to continue their involvement in similar projects beyond this initiative. Smt. Surajba College of Education's active involvement in the beach cleanup drives with the Afroz Shah Foundation has not only contributed to a cleaner environment but has also inspired the college community to adopt eco-friendly practices in their daily lives. This partnership exemplifies the power of collective action and the pivotal role educational institutions can play in addressing global challenges.

Report of the work

A group of young minds from Surajba College of Education visits Aseema for Community Work every Saturday in two different batches for the past 1 year. This has been a fun learning experience for the budding teachers where educating students was combined with activities which would help us in the near future. Each one of us learned remedial teaching, chart marking, record maintaining (both online and offline), paper checking, origami, craft work and many more. This experience was not specific to the one who are proficient in the respective skills but rather extended to each member of the community group so that we could learn and use it in our professional and personal life.

Remedial teaching was one of a kind experience as to how we can cater to students of different learning style. To simplify our teaching to a level which would incite enthusiasm in students was task which we got a hold of with time. Majority of students are first generational learners so we got an exposure at initial stage as to how we construct their learning so that they learn and enjoy the part without being stuck in monotony.

Along with that we learned how core values like discipline, team work, time management and many more throughout our course of 1 year. On the top of that this was first experience for many of us to serve at community level with any possible way we could! Overall we all had a delightful learning experience under the guidance of amicable teachers of Aseema trust, our college Surajba College of Education and our respective Community Incharge Vaishali Ma'am and Preeti Ma'am.

We are grateful for the opportunity!!!

2. Community Work Centre: Asha Kiran NGO (Andheri)

TIMING: 8:00 am to 10: 00 am .

Community Incharge: Ms. Sabiha More.

Report of the Work

This report is regarding community work . We, a group of nine students, had an exciting opportunity to be associated with Asha Kiran NGO. The main objective of community work is to provide education to the students of NGO.

We went to the NGO Asha Kiran , every Saturday for the past year. The duration of each session is two hours . There are a total of 80 students.All these students from BMC (municipality schools) and students who didn't attend school come here to learn and solve their doubts in the morning from 8 am to 10 am on the sidewalk.

We have seen that the volunteers provided snacks and study material such as writing pads , pencils , and water bottles to students. The one thing we observed of these kids was the respect that they give their elders.Every Saturday we teach them English specially to help them in communicating in English language . The divine society brings food for these children every day. Each child has to carry their tiffin In which they get the food . This means the organisation not only takes care about the learning ,and intellectual development of the children but also the physical development. This is being done to ensure that students have access to resources which they need for their studies. The students are very enthusiastic and eager to learn , which made the experience very enjoyable. This shows how much need these children have to learn , how much they dedicate towards studying and the importance of education . .After spending those two hours with the kids.We had a very pleasant feeling. It felt really good, the experience made us realise how much we love this profession.

Community work centre: PRAYAS
Community work incharge: Dr. Sunayana Kadle
Location: Goregaon

Report of the work

Prayas is a Non Profit Organisation working towards providing children with quality education. The students of B.Ed have been visiting Prayas every Saturday since the past one year. The main aim there is to facilitate learning in a comfortable environment. Most of the students who attend Prayas do not come from a very well to do background. Since English is not their first language, teaching English is an important agenda for the teachers. English will help them survive in this globally fast paced world. At Prayas children are provided with breakfast as well as food for their tiffins. Many times they also receive gifts which keeps them motivated to learn everyday. We as student teachers conduct remedial teaching for the children. It is beneficial for the students as they are learning in schools as well as outside. At Gandhi Shikshan Bhavan we believe in inclusivity and equality and we try to follow the same principles while at the NGO too. It's an opportunity one can't let go to waste. We're extremely thankful to our college and our mentor for providing us with this experience.
